VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1867. NO. 237.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

GENERAL SICKLES' ORDER FOR REGISTRATION.

HEADQUARTERS 2D MILITARY DISTRICT, CHARLESTON, S. C., May 8.

General Orders, No. 18.

1. On the 3d Monday of July next, in obedience to the requirements of the act of Congress, passed March 23, 1867, the Commanding General will proceed and cause to be made a registration of the male citizens of the United States, 21 years of age and upwards, residents of North and South Carolina, not disfranchised for participation in the rebellion.

2. One or more Boards of Registration consisting of three discreet and qualified persons, to be appointed by the Commanding General, will be organized in each county or city to make and complete the registration, superintend the election to be held thereafter for delegates to a convention to frame a constitution, and make returns to him of the votes, list of voters, and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at such election.

3. The counties in North Carolina and the geographical districts in South Carolina will, for the purpose of registration, be divided into convenient registration precincts, and in each precinct a Board of Registers will, if practicable, be organized. Several places will be designated in each registration precinct where the Board will meet, and citizens, eligible to registration, may go and be registered. The Board of Registers will remain in session two days from sunrise to sunset at each place of meeting.—On the adjournment of the Boards a copy of the list of persons registered will be deposited in a suitable place within the precinct, seven days for the public information, and thereafter the Board will again visit every precinct and revise the list of voters, hear objections from citizens as to any adjudication made, and register any person who may have been unable, by reason of illness or other good and sufficient cause, to attend the first session of the Board.

4. All persons appointed to make the said registration of voters, and to conduct said election, will be required, before entering on their duties, to take and subscribe to the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2d, 1862, entitled, "An act to prescribe the oath of office," and if any person shall falsely take such oath, he, if convicted, shall be subject to the penalties prescribed by law for wilful perjury. The form of the oath is hereinafter prescribed, as follows:

I, A. B., do solemnly swear or affirm that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; I have neither sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise, the functions of any office whatever under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power or constitution within the United States hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear that to the best of my knowledge and ability I will support, aid and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign or domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully perform the duties of the office upon which I am about to enter. So help me God.

5. Members of the Boards of Registration will be allowed as compensation $4 per day for each day actually and necessarily employed in the performance of their duties, and ten cents a mile for each mile traveled on duty, and officers of the army detailed for such duty will be paid the per diem and mileage allowed for attendance on Courts martial.

6. Any citizen desiring to serve as a member of the Board may forward his application to these headquarters. No application will be considered unless accompanied by a written recommendation, signed by either the Provisional Governor of the State, a District or Circuit Judge of the United States Court, a Collector or other principal officer of Customs or of Internal Revenue, the Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, or the commanding officer of a military post within which the applicant resides, certifying the applicant to be a fit person to receive the appointment.

7. It is essential that every Board should be composed of persons of recognized consideration and worth, fairly representing the population, and in whose impartiality and capacity the body of voters in the vicinage may have just reliance.

8. The boundaries of the precincts for registration, in the several places within each precinct where the Board will meet, the day or days on which the Board will meet in each precinct, and also such regulations as may be necessary for the government of registers and inspectors of elections in the discharge of their duties and to insure the accuracy and completeness of the registration, will be duly published for general information.

9. Post Commanders will report without delay upon the most expedient division of the territory within their commands into registration precincts, having reference, when practicable, to existing laws and customs establishing the usual voting places, and keeping in view the importance of affording ample facilities for registration with the least interruption of the ordinary avocations of the people.

By command of Major-General
D. E. SICKLES.

Several years ago a political convention in a neighboring State nominated a quiet well-to-do farmer for the office of Lieutenant Governor. The nominee graciously received the committee appointed to wait upon him at his residence, and after expressing his thanks for the honor conferred upon him, informed the committee that he had peculiar qualifications for Lieutenant Governor, "for, gentlemen, said he, "that is just the office I have held in my house for the past twenty five years."

Some people place their ideas of happiness upon one thing and some upon another. A lady made a call upon a friend who had lately been married. When her husband came home to dinner she said: 'I have been to see Mrs. ——.' 'Well,' replied the husband, 'I suppose she is very happy.' 'Happy? I should think she ought to be; she has a camel's hair shawl, two-thirds border.'

Grateful for the flattering patronage with which we have heretofore been so kindly favored, we respectfully solicit an increased share of the patronage of the citizens of Raleigh and the surrounding country. Without specially gazing, we deem it sufficient to say, that our stock mostly embraces such articles as are usually found in Family Groceries. Most of our goods have been recently bought in New York and Baltimore, for cash, and we hope to be able to sell them on satisfactory terms. In addition to our stock of Groceries, &c., we have a fine lot of

and a splendid lot of Confectioneries, consisting of

PLAIN AND FANCY CANDIES, RAISINS, ORANGES, FIGS, NUTS AND BRANDY PEACHES, &c., all of which will be sold on reasonable terms.

We have also a fine lot of genuine Durham Smoking Tobacco, which we can implicitly recommend to "those who smoke." Please call and see us.

We will pay particular attention to all consignments of Produce and Merchandize entrusted to our care and will endeavor to sell at the best market prices. Consignments are respectfully solicited. By a prompt and close attention to business and fair dealing with all, we hope to merit and receive a share of public patronage.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1867.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Whoever took the trouble to read our leading article of yesterday, will have seen that we awarded the more moderate portion of the Republican party of the North, the credit of seeming to appreciate the sincerity of the South, in its disposition promptly to obey the terms of Congress, on the basis of their finality. And while we stated, as due to candor and truth, that we were far from being in love with those terms, or enamored of the men who had forced them upon us, we intimated our belief that Southern neophyte Radicalism was infinitely more bigoted, vindictive and malevolent than the same ism at the North. Indeed, it is our conviction that, but for the studious, persistent and unscrupulous misrepresentations of their own people, with which these men have flooded the country, we should have been spared much of our present extremity.

Apropos to this subject, we observe the fresh announcement, in our Northern exchanges, that other "distinguished speakers," in addition to those who have come already, are to traverse the South during the next few months, to organize the "Republican Party." Very well. We hope to be explicitly informed what are the principles that are to make up the stock in trade of this organization. So far as this State is concerned, the so-called Republican party is the most bogus of all shams. What would be thought of a "Republican" party in Ohio, of which Mr. Vallandigham or Mr. Pendleton were the prime movers? There would be just as much propriety in naming such a party "Republican," (in the present political acceptation of that term,) as to call the Holden faction in this State by that name. A real "Republican" party must have "Republicans" for its chief men, its leaders. But look at our Republican party. Dockery, Settle, Holden, Sinclair, Carter, Harris, (white,) Henderson! Are these the sort of politicians that the North finds it so important to attach to itself, that it sends out its "distinguished speakers" to support?

We are willing to hear men of all shades of opinion, and agree with them if their arguments have force to convince us. But the people of North Carolina know these native "Republicans" better than any stranger can. If fair and well-disposed representatives of the North will content themselves with simply giving us their views on reconstruction, what they wish us to do, and with telling us how we can prove to their satisfaction that we mean what we have all the time said, and that we are ready to carry out the late measures of Congress in good faith, we will cheerfully hear them, and agree with them where we can. But we trust that they will not make a point of seeking to compel us to endorse the already oft-repudiated political hacks of the Holden, Settle, Sinclair style. To require us to swallow them would be making us eat dirt with a vengeance. Mr. Holden has already re-constructed us once, and worked to tear us down twice. Is not that enough of reconstruction and distinction for one man? Besides, if Senator Wilson and others think so much of Mr. Holden and his party, why did they not accept him when he offered himself as Minister to San Salvador? What new lights have dawned upon them since that time?

The thing is simply impossible. If the Northern missionaries expect to convert anybody to "Republicanism" in the South, they will have to change their tactics materially. They can never woo any of our people to a party that recognizes such leaders as Brownlow, Hamilton, Holden, Settle, Sinclair, Henderson, and such.

BROWNLOW'S BODY-GUARD.—The work of arming and organizing the banditti who are to enforce the edicts of Brownlow, in his Kingdom, is progressing as well as the most ardent admirer of lawlessness, violence and crime could desire.

The last Lynchburg News records the following incident, which is strongly indicative of the conduct likely to characterize this corps of Janissaries. We give it in the words of the News:

"As the train on the East Tennessee and Virginia railroad was about leaving Greensville, four newly enlisted negro recruits stepped on the cars, and entering seated themselves with a lordly air, and, "monarchs of all they surveyed," with lofty bearing looked with contemptuous disregard on all subluinary mortals. When the conductor came along to collect the fare, they magniloquently informed him that the road belonged to them, and they had no idea of submitting to any such imposition as to pay for the privilege of riding on their own train. The conductor threatened to put them off, and raised his hand to pull the bell rope, when they drew their bayonets and ordered him to desist under penalty of immediate death. Unable to cope with this armed and desperate party, and knowing that any resort to violence would only draw down on his devoted head the wrath of their protector, Brownlow, the conductor was forced to submit to their outrageous conduct, and bear with patience the insulting jeers with which he was unceasingly assailed. The "detachment," in effect, captured the train, and held it subject to ther own orders, until Jonesboro, the point of their destination, was reached, at which place they left the train to the care of the conductor. The best of the joke is, that Col. Young, the conductor who was so roughly handled, is an ex-army officer, one who for four years had followed the "old flag" through all the vicissitudes and perils of its varied experience, had been promoted for his gallantry in the Union cause, and was in every respect regarded as thoroughly reconstructed. He is naturally very indignant at the outrage to which he has been subjected, and is no doubt beginning to appreciate at their true value the beauties of Brownlow's rule."

THE CASE OF HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Great Concourse Present.

HIS APPEARANCE—HIS COUNSEL.

OUTBURST OF POPULAR JOY.

&c., &c., &c., &c.

Yesterday witnessed a scene of intense excitement, in the United States District Court for Virginia, Judge Underwood presiding. It being known that Hon. Jefferson Davis, late President of the Confederate States, would be produced in court under the writ of habeas corpus, which had been sued out in his behalf, the court-room was filled at the earliest moment allowed by the officers in charge.

Among those present, were many prominent citizens and officials, civil and military, of this and other States.

A little before 11 o'clock Mr. Davis's counsel entered and took their seats within the bar.

This being the first appearance of Mr. O'Conor in Richmond, curiosity combined with his great fame as a lawyer, his spotless reputation as a gentleman, and the extraordinary interest felt in the case of which he was the leading counsel, to render him the focus of all eyes. He is an exceedingly pleasant-looking gentleman, about five feet nine or ten inches in height, rather slight of frame, the summit of his head bald, but partially concealed by the white hair which was brushed across it, whiskers grey, closely trimmed and extending from ear to ear, head not large nor forehead massive although high and free from wrinkles. His glance is quick and pleasant, his action also quick but gentle and graceful. His countenance beams with a cheerful benignity. Only his eyes bespeak him the full man that he is. They glow like diamonds of first water. He does not use glasses. To compare him with gentlemen generally known, we would say that he nearly resembles Hon. Allen T. Caperton, of Virginia, in figure and feature, while his expression is closely like that of a fellow countryman, the excellent D. Arcy Paul, of Petersburg.

Next to Mr. O'Conor, and engaged in an animated conversation with him, sat the Hon. Wm. B. Reed, of Philadelphia, who has been among us before. Mr. R. is rather portly, with a large head, prominent forehead, is slightly bald, ruddy in complexion, and wears neither whiskers nor moustache.

Next came Hon. James Lyons, of this city, Mr. Shea, of New York, and J. R. Tucker, Esq. On the opposite side of the table, (as indicated in our diagram) sat Mr. Ould, the remaining counsel for Mr. Davis.

On the same side with Mr. Ould, and confronting Mr. O'Conor, sat Mr. Chandler, the U. S. District Attorney, and W. M. Evarts, Esq., of New York, who had been engaged by the Government to assist in the prosecution.

Mr. Evarts, who is a distinguished lawyer, is of medium height, spare of frame, pale, and of grave aspect.

At about 11 o'clock a buzz which ran through the room announced the entrance of Horace Greely, who took a seat at the foot of the table beside Mr. Augustus Schell, of New York. These two citizens are as opposite as the poles in politics, but were present for a common purpose—that of entering surety for Mr. Davis should he be admitted to bail. Mr. Schell is a prominent Democrat, Mr. Greely everything else. The former is a stout gentlemen with strongly marked features, grey side-whiskers, and wears glasses. Mr. Greely is as indescribable in his personal appearance as in his politics. His ruling expression is that of generous good nature, with an appearance of listlessness utterly at war with his restless activity. His face and head are round, the latter bald, with a fringing of whitish-yellow hair around the base. He wears glasses. His motion is shambling and "don't care," and his attitudes awkward. On the whole, his appearance is striking, and while eliciting criticism, conciliates a kind judgment. The mission on which he came, combined too to secure him the most favorable dispositions of our people. Probably to no one man is the liberation of Mr. Davis so much due as to Horace Greely. The position he occupied with respect to the party most disposed to severities, enabled him to speak with powerful effect, and to furnish a shelter for those who might follow his counsels, but with less claim to the indulgence of the dominant faction.

But few ladies were present, but in the solitude of many a chamber went up fervent prayers in behalf of the accused. Shortly before 11 o'clock the doors were opened to the eager throng, who, although unable to procure tickets, besieged the stairs, and every foot of standing room was soon filled.

Eleven o'clock arrived, but neither Judge nor prisoner appeared in the court-room, although the roll of carriages, resounding above the hum and buzz of the excited throng, announced the arrival of Mr. Davis.

The sidewalks between the Lotel and the court-room were thronged with curious spectators, and it was with difficulty that a strong police force, aided by a detachment of the Eleventh Infantry, could keep a passage clear for pedestrians.

So great was the concourse in front of the Spotswood, that a stratagem was resorted to. Mr. Davis was escorted by Mr. Millward (one of the proprietors) to the store-room, and thence made his exit into the alley at the rear of the hotel, between 8th and 9th streets. Here, accompanied by General Burton, Dr. Cooper and Maj. McElrath, he entered a carriage owned and driven by Mr. Wm. M. Ledley, and driving through the alley to 9th, the party stole a march on the throng in front of the hotel, and passing up 9th to Main, down Main to 10th, up 10th to Bank, reached the court-house without obstruction, and on arriving Mr. Davis was assigned to a private room.

At a quarter after 11 o'clock Judge Underwood took his seat, and the Court was opened in the usual form.

Expectation now stood on tiptoe, and five minutes later Mr. Davis entered by the door on the left of the Judge, and was escorted to a seat in the northeastern corner of the room. He was dressed in a suit of fine black cloth, flecked with tiny gray spots, and bowed in pleasent recognition of the silent greetings which were lavished upon him. He wore gloves of dark green kid.

Judge Underwood remarked, that as the Court was honored by the presence of many of the bravest and most lionized defenders of the national honor, he would dispense with the usual routine, and was now ready to receive any communication which General Burton might have to make in answer to the writ that had been directed to him.

General Burton thereupon escorted his distinguished prisoner into the bar, where he took a seat between Mr. O'Conor and Mr. Reed. Mr. Davis was thinner and apparently more feeble than when the writer saw him last autumn. It was impossible to look upon him without both proud and tender emotion, as he sat there the calmest man in the whole assembly. His eye was as tranquil and his nerve as steady as though he had no concern in the scene around him, and giving proof of the nobility of soul that is proof against external circumstances.

Mr. O'Conor then rose and said that the counsel of Mr. Davis were ready to proceed. He then read the order directed by Judge Chase to General Burton, as follows:

The President of the United States to Brigadier General H. S. Burton, and to any other person or persons having the custody of Jefferson Davis, greeting:

We command you that you have the body of Jefferson Davis, by you imprisoned and detained, as it is said, together with cause of such imprisonment and detention, by whatsoever name the said Jefferson Davis may be called or charged, before our Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Virginia, at the next term thereof at Richmond, in said District, on the second Monday of May, 1867, at the opening of the court on that day, to do and receive what shall then and there be considered concerning the said Jefferson Davis.

Witness, Salmon P. Chase, our Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, this 1st day of May, in the year 1867.

W. H. BARRY,
Clerk of the Circuit Court of the U. S.

Mr. Chandler presented the return of General Burton, renouncing further custody of Mr. Davis, and delivering him to the court, as follows:

In obedience to the exigency of the within writ, I now here produce before the within named Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Virginia, the body of Jefferson Davis, at the time of the service of the writ held by me in imprisonment at Fortress Monroe, under the military authority of the United States, and submit and surrender the said Jefferson Davis to the custody, jurisdiction and control of the said Court, as I am directed to do by the order of the President of the United States, under date of May 18, 1867.

H. S. BURTON,
Col. Fifth Artillery,
Brevet Brig. Gen. U. S. Army.

On the reading of the return as above, Mr. O'Conor said that its terms were such as to exclude all prior questions as to the legality of the imprisonment to which Mr. Davis had been subjected. His discharge from that imprisonment was by the paper complete, and superseded all inquiry. He had been advised, however, that this court had instituted proceedings against the prisoner, and contemplated further action. Mr. Davis and his counsel were here to respond to any legal demand; but it was for the government to take the lead in any proposed action.

The Judge said that the return of General Burton was explicit and entirely satisfactory, and proceeded to pass a high eulogy on that officer for his graceful and prompt obedience to the law. He concluded by ordering a warrant of arrest to be served on Mr. Davis under the indictment found against him in this court in May, 1866.

The Marshal proceeded immediately to execute the warrant. Advancing to Mr. Davis's seat, he presented it to him. Mr. Davis courteously received it and handed it to Mr. O'Conor.

General Burton then made some remarks, mostly inaudible, thanking the Judge for the compliments passed upon his discharge of duty.

Mr. O'Conor then stated that his client was in court and ready to conform to whatever the court might order and the laws justify. The party implicated was not the one to lead off in the proceedings, but he was here ready to respond. In view of the long imprisonment to which his client had been subjected, he was naturally desirous that there should be no unnecessary delay. He acknowledged the indictment and the service of the warrant of arrest. There was no technical difficulty of that sort. He is now ready to respond and willing to be tried.

Mr. Evarts rose, and briefly stated, in behalf of the Government, that it was not intended to enter upon the trial at this term of the court.

Mr. O'Conor said that that decision of the Government throws upon the prisoner's counsel the duty of presenting some facts and views to the Court. Mr. Davis has been imprisoned a long time. His imprisonment dates back to the 19th, of April, 1865. He has been under indictment since the month of May, 1866. Mr. Davis has been all the time ready and anxious for a trial, and particularly so for the last twelve months. He has ever been exceedingly anxious to receive the advantages and enjoy the rights so handsomely eulogized by the Judge in his remarks to General Burton. Mr. O'Conor asked for his client a just, fair and benign administration of the laws. An appeal may fairly be made to the Court to adopt mild, precautionary measures; for all the preliminaries to trial are but precautions to secure the presence of the accused when the question of his guilt or innocence comes fairly before the Court. The Constitution to which we all profess allegiance, and for which he hoped all felt reverence, enjoins the speedy trial of accused persons. He did not pretend that speedy necessarily means immediate trial. Government is entitled to all necessary and reasonable delay. He did not complain of the delay which had taken place, or of that which was now contemplated. His respect for the authorities of the Government constrained him to presume that both were for adequate reasons. But he desired the court to consider that the gentleman concerned was not remarkably young or remarkable for physical vigor, and that his health has suffered from imprisonment, and will probably suffer still more if it be further protracted. He is prepared to offer to the court security for his appearance, in any amount which may be demanded. Gentlemen from all parts of the country, and of every shade of respectable opinion, are ready to unite in this security. Gentlemen who are opposed to the acts of Mr. Davis's whole public life are ready to enter into the engagement from their interest in the dignity and honor of the country. They consider the national honor at stake.

Mr. O'Conor accordingly made application for the privilege of bail for his client, asking that he might not, by its refusal, be subjected to that most cruel mode of taking life, that severest and most galling of punishments,—death in a dungeon by confinement. Those who, while differing from Mr. Davis, yet offer to become his sureties, are entitled to peculiar consideration; for their act bears testimony that they know him to be a man of honor; and they are willing to pledge their whole estates that he will keep his word. On that future day when the government shall find itself prepared to proceed with the trial, Mr. Davis will be present to respond, without the necessity of subjecting him meanwhile to the tortures of imprisonment.

Mr. O'Conor further remarked that while ready to give bail in any amount, he did not think it right that the government should exact excessive bail. Fair, respectable, suitable bail, he supposed, would satisfy the government. This he now proposed to give, and left it to the court to indicate the amount.

Mr. O'Conor, in conclusion, remarked in reference to his comments on the pains of imprisonment suffered by Mr. Davis, that since he had been under the custody of Gen. Burton, he had had as few pains and as little suffering were as consistent with imprisonment. General Burton was a soldier and a gentleman, and had deported himself accordingly towards his prisoner. He had no observations to make as to others who had previously held the same post.

Mr. Evarts, for the Government, said, that Mr. Davis's imprisonment had been under the military authority of the United States, and the circumstances which had attended it were not subject of inquiry or consideration here. He was now under judicial control, and the questions for the court are, Shall he be bailed? and if so, in what amount? The indictment which had been found against Mr. Davis was under the recent law of Congress—the statute of 1862.—By that law the crime with which Mr. Davis is charged had, for the first time, less than the death penalty attached to it. The case, therefore, offers a proper occasion for an application for bail. The gravity of the offences charged being understood, and the circumstances of the particular case being understood, the case was one for the discretion of the Court. The personal character of the securities offered had nothing to do with the question. Security such as would satisfy the law, was what the Court must require. If bail be allowed, it should be neither extravagant nor unsuitable. The peculiar opinions of the sureties were outside of the question. The Court should look to the considerations which the law regards as substantial and sufficient, and should exact nothing beyond.

Mr. Chandler (District Attorney) said that by the act of 1789, a person accused of a crime to which less than the death penalty attaches, has a right to bail; and even where death is the penalty he may be bailed in the discretion of the Judge. He would assume that the case before the court was one in which conviction would not bring the death penalty. He therefore would not resist the application for bail. The remaining question was as to the amount of bail proper to be demanded. He did not desire excessive bail, and would suggest as an amount which had been to some extent recognized as proper, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars. He knew this sum would subject the accused to no difficulty. It would be given as easily as ten thousand dollars. In reference to the gentlemen who might be offered as sureties, he considered it his duty to the Government to require that a portion, say one-half, should be citizens of Virginia. In case the bond should be forfeited, and suit should have to be brought, the court could not, without inconvenience, proceed against parties outside of the judicial district.

Mr. O'Conor—There shall be no difficulty on that score. We can give, if necessary, all Virginians, and men who do not wait to be sued for anything.

Mr. Chandler said his only object was to avoid all possible future embarrassments.

Mr. O'Conor stated that no objection was taken to the amount named by Mr. Chandler.

Judge Underwood then said he had no doubt whatever that the act charged was bailable. Congress, in 1862, had reduced the punishment of the offence charged, from death to fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the judge. This was a proceeding out of the usual course of things as seen in times of civil war. But it was nevertheless a fact, and a fact honorable to the government, and which relieves every doubt of the admissibility of the application for bail. It was eminently proper, too, that the motion made should be received with favor.—The defendant was ready for trial, and had been for a year. He had not till to-day been in the custody of the court. The circumstances, however, which have prevented do not reflect on the government. They were the natural effect of a great war, which lashed all the elements of society into fury. It was not extraordinary that such passions and prejudices did not subside in a moment. Threats of violence were abroad in the land, and government felt that it could not safely proceed. It was proper to say that the term of this court was omitted last fall, because, after consultation, it was deemed unsafe to hold it, on account of the disorders then prevailing.—Now there is a better state of things and better prospects. We have peace and a prospect of its permanency. He said that the further delay in the trial was not due to the District Attorney. He had expected it to come off at this term. Circumstances of a grave nature and sufficient weight, had decided the government to take a different course. This was not the fault of the defendant, nor of the District Attorney. It was the act of the government for sufficient cause. The amount of bail agreed on by counsel was entirely satisfactory to the court;—one hundred thousand dollars, with suitable sureties, one-half from Virginia.

Upon the conclusion of Judge Underwood's remarks, Mr. O'Conor briefly thanked the court for its indulgence. The bond being prepared, there was a rivalry for the honor of becoming sureties for Mr. Davis, but the bond was finally signed with the following names:

Horace Greely, Augustus Schell and H. F. Clark, of the Southern District of New York; Aristides Welsch, Eastern District of New York; David K. Jackman, Eastern District, Pennsylvania; W. H. McFarland, R. B. Haxall, Isaac Davenport, Thomas R. Price, Abram Warwick, Gustavus A. Myers, William W. Crump, James Lyons, James Thomas, Jr., John A. Meredith, William Allen, William H. Lyons, of Richmond; John Minor Botts, of Culpeper; Thomas W. Doswell, of Hanover, and James Skinner.

The release of Mr. Davis was now ordered; General Burton and Dr. Cooper went forward and tendered him their warm congratulations. The example of these officers was followed by a host of personal friends, and a scene of unbounded enthusiasm and excitement prevailed.

A shout, which could not be repressed, and which shook the granite walls to their foundations, went up from the excited throng; and amidst the exultant chorus Mr. Davis descended the stairs, shaking hands right and left as he passed, and, entering the carriage which brought him to the court room, returned to the hotel, where he spent some time in receiving the congratulations of the hosts of friends who availed themselves of the opportunity to express their joy and gratitude at his release.

MR. AND MRS. DAVIS VISIT HOLLYWOOD.

Mr. Davis, accompanied by his wife, visited Hollywood Cemetery, on yesterday, and decked with flowers the grave of their little son Joseph, who is there interred.

DEPARTURE OF MR. DAVIS.

It will surprise our readers and disappoint multitudes who had prepared to pay their respects to ex-President Davis, to be informed that he has already left the city. It is due both to him and to our people to explain that he has done so from a delicate consideration for them, and at much sacrifice of his own personal feelings. He was unwilling to be in any way the occasion of demonstrations, friendly or otherwise, calculated to disturb the public peace; and as some apprehensions had been made known to him from responsible quarters of such a possibility in the present state of the community, he denied himself the pleasure of the greetings of his personal friends in order to quiet every uneasiness. In conformity with the same generous purpose we refrain from stating the course of his journey.

The Examiner says:

"Mr. Davis left the city this morning, (14th.,) at 4 o'clock, on the Niagara for New York. He left the Spotswood last night at 10½ o'clock in a very quiet way, and spent the night on board the boat. His purpose is to proceed at once to Canada, get his children, who are there, and return at once to his home in Mississippi, where he says he wishes to look after what is left of his estate, educate his children, and spend the remainder of his days.

Mrs. Davis is to stop at Norfolk and await Mr. Davis' return from Canada."

The Enquirer, commenting upon the release of the distinguished captive, and the scenes which transpired in the Court-room, editorially observes:

"More was done for "reconstruction" yesterday than might be by all the civil rights and military bills that could be passed in five years. The scene, in the court room looked more like "reconstruction" than anything the country had before exhibited.—Greeley and Botts exchanging cordial greetings with Jefferson Davis; U. S. generals felicitating him on his release; Southerner and Northerner grasping hands in cordial congratulation over the result; the people making the court-room and welkin ring with wild and uncontrollable outbursts of joy; brave soldiers, all unused to the melting mood, weeping;—all made up a scene which the coldest heart could not have witnessed unmoved! In the midst of the excited circle, the noble object of all this sympathy bore himself with a serenity that dwells high above the perturbations of changing fortunes.

And what was it that carried all this joy to Southern hearts, and awakened such kindly sentiments towards the Government? We entreat the Northern people to ponder it,—it was simply the administration of the law, instead of the rule of arbitrary power and caprice! Is not this a small boon?—Is it anything monstrous to ask, that the law be made supreme? Instead of this heretofore, what have we had? We asked for bread and we got a stone. We asked for fish and we recieved a serpent. We petitioned for the law, and we got military imprisonments contrary to law; we got the civil rights act; we got the military act;—all in repudiation of our lawful privileges and constitutional rights. We had on yesterday the morning streak of a brighter day! And the North had a lesson which, if it will ponder, will promote the common good;—it is this: The true way to subdue the Southern people is by giving them justice, and their rights under the law, and not by withholding these and replacing them by persecutions!"

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

To ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Mitchell, Allen & Co., No. 22 Pollok St., Newbern: Agricultural Warehouse, &c.

The Second Session of the ninth academic year of the Hillsboro' Military and Polytechnic Academy, under the able auspices of that distinguished soldier and accomplished gentleman and scholar, Gen. R. E. Colston, will commence on the first day of July. We trust that it will open with a full corps of cadets. We are sure no institution in the South presents superior advantages for acquiring first-class education.

The Superintendent of the Insane Asylum invites proposals for furnishing that institution with 1500 cords of oak and pine wood.

Hardware: J. Brown, (with Hart & Lewis,) No. 44 Fayetteville Street.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Simon Stringfellow, and John Brown, Co. A, 5th U. S. Cavalry, were committed to the Guard House for being in the city without passes, at the house of Julia Davis, on Vinegar Hill.—Turned over to the military authorities.

Gaston Warren, his wife, and Martha Sinnett and Elizabeth Warren, his daughters, were loged in the Guard House, by order of the military authorities.

KITTRELL'S SPRINGS FEMALE COLLEGE. The Commencement exercises of this excellent institution will occur on Wednesday, the 22nd inst. The annual literary address will be delivered by the Rev. Joel W. Tucker, and there will be a vocal and instrumental Concert at night.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S VISIT.—We are not yet able to announce whether the President will visit Raleigh. We have reason, however, to think that he will do so. In a few days we will be able to state with certainty.

TO BASE BALL CLUBS IN NORTH CAROLINA.—I am instructed by the Crescent Club to invite representatives from the Base Ball Clubs of North Carolina, to meet in Convention, at Raleigh, on the 3rd. day of July next, to organize a State Association of Base Ball Players.

Clubs favorable to the movement will please signify their assent to the "Secretary of the Crescent Club" as soon as convenient.

W. E. ANDERSON,
President Crescent Base Ball Club.

REV. THOS. E. SKINNER, Pastor of the Baptist Church in this City, and Rev. J. D. Hufham, Editor of the Biblical Recorder, are in attendance on the Baptist Convention at present being held in Memphis. We observe that it has already been decided to hold the next annual session in Baltimore, and that the Rev. J. L. M. Curry, of Alabama, is to preach the inaugural sermon, with the Rev. T. E. Skinner as alternate.

Rev. Dr. Mason, Rector of Christ Church, in this City, is absent in attendance on the annual Diocesan Convention in Wilmington.

SNUBBED.—Madame Demorest, the Mirror of Fashion in this country, snubs the long braids of the ladies, and doesn't hesitate to tell them that they "are ugly." The Madame says, in her June Monthly, "the braids which young ladies have commenced wearing behind their ears are universally dubbed pig-tails, and are so awkward in themselves and so provocative of ridicule that their lives must be short."

ELECTED BISHOP.—The intelligence of the election of the Rev. John Beckwith to the Bishoprick of the Diocese of Georgia, to supply the vacancy created by the death of that good and great man, Bishop Elliot, has caused much rejoicing among his relatives and friends in this city. The promotion of one so young to so important and responsible a position in the church, is a compliment of the very highest character, and, so far as we can learn, richly merited by the recipient.

Bishop Beckwith is the son of Dr. John Beckwith, and the brother of Dr. T. Stanly Beckwith of this city.—Petersburg Index.

Bishop Beckwith is a native of this city, and spent his boyhood here. Few men were more beloved in the community than his excellent father. The youthful Bishop has a high reputation as a zealous and eloquent minister of the gospel.

STRAWBERRIES.—The Norfolk papers state that strawberries made their appearance in the market of that city on Friday, and commanded $1,50 per quart at retail. Over a hundred quarts were bought for shipment at $1 per quart. They are beginning to make their appearance, in some abundance, in our market, and can be bought for from 20 to 25 cents a quart.

CAPIT(o)L CLOVER.—We would call the attention of our farmers, who may visit Raleigh, to the present growing crop of red clover, in our Capitol grounds. We learn from the Superintendent that no fertilizer has been put upon the grass in the enclosure since the close of the war, and we are very sure that none was put there during the war. Indeed, the grass was much trampled by soldiers, and the place was necessarily much overlooked. And yet, in the face of these adverse circumstances, there is an elegant crop of clover there. Here is a living proof of the fact that this region is well adapted to clover. If it will grow well without any applications whatever, it would grow in great perfection with proper culture. Very fair blue grass is intermingled with the red clover.

Grass, meaning by this red clover, blue-grass and timothy, is the basis of the wealth of the renowned Shenandoah Valley, in Virginia. With these three varieties of grass, they have the very finest of beef, butter, pork, horses, sheep and poultry; for all animals thrive on grass.

Many a poor farmer can get rich on grass alone. Farms have been known to be made very fertile with clover alone.

We have heard of a man in Virginia who bought a poor farm of moderate size and planted it in clover. In a few years, one of the Marshalls gave this man eighteen hundred acres of land for his clover farm.

The same results can be had here, by the same means. It will afford pasture for summer, and hay for winter. And with an abundance of fat beef, fat horses, and such butter as nothing but clover and timothy will make, you can let the outside world wag on.

STATE ITEMS.

—We are pained to learn that Platt K. Dickinson, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Wilmington, died at his residence in that city, on Sunday. The Dispatch, of Tuesday, says of Mr. Dickinson:

"He had ever been a man of great public spirit, and his name is inseparably linked with many of the enterprises and public measures which have developed the business interests of this city. He lived to win the esteem of his fellow-citizens and to enjoy their confidence in no ordinary degree; and his loss will be deeply and widely deplored. A large concourse of friends and acquaintances attended the solemn burial services celebrated at St. James' Church, on yesterday afternoon, and follow'd his remains to the place of interment near this city, to pay the last sad tribute of respect to his memory."

Mr. Dickinson resided in this City for a year or two during the war, with his estimable family. He stood deservedly high, wherever known, as a high-toned, public-spirited gentleman.

—The Newbern Journal of Commerce states that Joseph Smith, George W. Harrison and John Henry Cumbo, citizens of Jones County, charged with robbery, were brought to that City on Saturday night last, and lodged in the county jail. They are held by U. S. Deputy Marshall Kehoe, and will be brought before Commissioner Lehman for an examination. Smith, subsequent to his confinement, was released on bail of $10,000, to appear on Thursday.—The Journal says that no person in the community, who knows any of these prisoners, entertains the slightest doubt of their innocence.

—Mr. R. H. Talley, the government Inspector of Whiskey for Mecklenburg County, Va., overhauled a North Carolinian, by the name of J. M. Tapscot, a few days since, who had two barrels of liquor, not branded, which he offered in Clarksville at $2,50 per gallon. The whiskey, (84 gallons) together with the wagon, horse and mule, were seized by Talley, and, being confiscated by the reuenue law, will soon be sold at public vendue. Mr. Tapscot left on foot, the morning after the unfortunate occurence, for his home in Alamance, N. C.

—An old resident of Mecklenburg, in a fit of insanity, hung himself on Sunday morning, in sight of his family, who rescued him before life was extinct. The Charlotte papers forbear giving names.

—The Wilmington Journal gives a bad account of the state of things in New Hanover. It says:

"Lawless violence and stealing in a high degree continue to stalk with defiant spirit in New Hanover county. Vice and crime of the worst character still go on in the face of civil and military law, and the farmers in the country, especially, are subject to all manner of evil and robberies of this sort."

—We learn, from the Norfolk Day Book, that Messrs. W. A. Riddick and R. E. Norfleet, of North Carolina, were assaulted on the streets of that city, on Monday night, by two ruffians, who had handkerchiefs over the lower portion of their faces to prevent detection. After a slight scuffle, the villains were driven off; but not until Mr. Riddick had received a slight cut over the eye.

—Rt. Rev. Bishop Atkinson administered the rite of confirmation to fifty-six persons, in St. John's Church, Wilmington, on Sunday evening last.

THE CASE OF MR. DAVIS.—We surrender the greater portion of our available space, to-day, to the interesting account of the proceedings in the U. S. Circuit Court, at Richmond, on Monday, that led to the release of Mr. Davis.

The Hickman (Ky.) Courier is responsible for the statement that a Miss Mary Godsy, living near that place, has been asleep for twelve years. At the age of twelve, after an ague fit, the young lady went to sleep, and has been in a state of coma most of the time since, and she is now twenty-four years of age. She wakes at regular intervals for the purpose of yawning, but soon sinks into a slumber again, from which it is impossible to arouse her. She takes kindly to this condition of things, has grown considerably, and preserves her beauty and plumpness.

The free mulattoes' children are putting themselves forward in Louisiana, and especially in New Orleans, as the rightful guides and leaders of the black population in the new order of things, to the exclusion even of the radical whites.

MEXICAN NEWS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.

We get the following from Hon. L. D. Campbell. His messenger to Juarez returned to-day, having made the trip from Matamoras to San Louis Potosi and back in fifty days. He remained in San Louis Potosi two days, and was treated with the greatest courtesy and consideration.

The Liberals report that Escobedo had 25,000 men at Queretaro and had possession of all the roads but one, with the expectation of getting that. Maximilian is inside with 15,000 men. The feeling among the Liberals, is very bitter against Maximilian and his native officers. It is feared that he will not be able to save them in the case of capture.

Juarez and his generals are confident of a speedy triumph at Queretaro and expect to be in the city of Mexico in two months.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 15.

The deficiency in the accounts of the Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans, according to statements here, is $1,000,000. This includes the amounts deposited in the National Banks of that city. Those engaged in the transaction have unconditionally surrendered all their private property to meet the deficiency, and the deposits in the National Banks are less than the Securities in the hands of the United States. Therefore, the Government will not be loser to a great extent.

Serious regrets are felt at the Treasury Department on account of these embarrassments. The parties concerned are of unimpeachable integrity. The difficulty is attributable to the decline in cotton on Saturday week.

The Russian Minister, to-day, communicated to the State Department a telegram from Gorschikoff, announcing the ratification of the Russian American party.

DEATH OF EX-GOV. WRIGHT.

A Berlin telegram announces the death of Ex-Governor Joseph A. Wright, our Minister to Prussia. He has been suffering with dropsy for some time past, and his health has been regarded as in a very precarious condition; but, after several announcements that he was on the point of death, we were informed by cable a few days ago that he was much better, and that hopes of his recovery were entertained. It now appears that the favorable indications were fallacious. The cable dispatch says, "he commenced to sink rapidly on the night of the 10th., and expired next morning at 8 o'clock." Minister Wright was born in Pennsylvania. He settled in Indiana, and represented that State in Congress from 1843 to 1845. In 1849 he was elected Governor, which office he filled until 1857, when he was appointed by President Buchanan Minister to Prussia. In 1861 he was elected to the Senate and served one session in that branch of the National Legislature. In 1863 Mr. Lincoln appointed him Commissioner to attend the Hamburg exhibition, and in 1865 he was again accredited as Minister to the Court of Prussia, which office he held up to the time of his death.

Senator Wilson arrived in Montgomery, Ala, on Friday. On his trip from Atlanta he addressed several white audiences, when he was severely catechised about certain customs in the North. On Saturday, he addressed an audience of the usual mixed character. He was introduced by General Swayne, and in the course of his speech made no reference whatever to confiscation. He was replied to by a prominent lawyer, named Clanton, formerly a rebel general, who urged in argument that the negro did not owe his freedom to the republican party; that President Lincoln had promised the rebellious South two years after the commencement of the war that their slaves would be undisturbed if they would return to the Union. After the speeches, General Swayne called for the sense of the colored people as to who were for the republican party, and the response was a unanimous affirmative.—Cor. N. Y. Herald.

Kelly, of Pennsylvania, addressed the people of New Orleans on the political status of the South on Saturday evening. His audience was the largest mass meeting of citizens known in that city for some time, and numerous political clubs were present with banners, transparencies and devices. Resolutions of a strong republican character were adopted after the meeting. The remarks of the Judge were frequently greeted with prolonged applause.—Cor. N. Y. Herald.

GENERAL SCHOFIELD.—The manner in which this officer has discharged the delicate and onerous duties pertaining to his position, entitle him to and ensure for him the respectful gratitude of Virginia. It is a giant task at best to satisfactorily execute a despotic edict upon the people affected, and we hope that no conduct of our citizens will ever add a feather's weight to the difficulties by which the General is surrounded.—Petersburg Index.

A Minnesota Congressman is accused of having franked home bags of potatoes.

Clothes used to be sent home to be washed in "old times."

THE NEGRO LEGISLATORS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The Boston Courier, referring to Mr. Wilson's attempt to produce the impression in the South that the two negroes in the Massachusetts Legislature were elected by the Radicals, says that one of them was elected by the Democrats over the Radical nominee, and the other because the Democrats declared they would unite with the negroes to elect him if the Radicals refused to nominate him. We do not know that the Democrats deserve any credit for these acts; but perhaps the negroes may think so.

"Come till America, Pat!" writes a son of the Emerald Isle to his friend in Ireland; "tis a fine country to get a livin in. All ye have to do is to get a three cornered box and fill it wid bricks, and carry it till the top of a three story building, and the man at the top does all the work."

A dispatch from Texas received by the President says that by reason of General Griffin's order requiring exclusion of jurors who cannot take the test oath, the courts are closed. The question is asked: "Is this ruling approved by the President?" No answer, it is said, will be given until the Attorney General's opinion shall be completed.

It has come to light that Secretary Seward and the Russian Government are quarrelling over the expenses incurred in the sending of cable telegrams concerning the Walrussian treaty.

Senator Frelinghuysen was serenaded by the Young Republicans of Newark on Friday night last, and made a speech in which he endorsed Senator Wilson's recent pledges to the South.

A man in Boston has sued his brother for $10,000 damages, for alleged slanderous words written in a letter to the sister of the parties.

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very featuresf of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. FIRST CLASS PROPERTY FOR RENT.

THAT LARGE, COMMODIOUS, AND WELL known Hotel,

"THE METROPOLITAN"

situated in the center of the business portion of Greensboro, N. C., is offered for rent or lease.

Its advantages are many; the outhouses and improvements are in fine condition, and of modern construction. Greensboro is a point at which a well conducted Hotel cannot fail to pay an active manager very handsomely; being at the terminus of the Richmond, Danville and Piedmont Rail Road, about the middle of the N. C. Central Rail Road, in the very centre of the Mining District of N. C.; at a point always remarkable for its flourishing schools and female colleges, and well known as a summer resort, on account of its healthy atmosphere.

The proprietors would prefer renting to some party, who have had experience in conducting a first-class hotel, and to such the terms would be most liberal; at any rate they desire an active and energetic man. The Metropolitan Property being the only Hotel in the central part of town, "makes it most desirable, and a competent manager would enjoy a monopoly.

FERTILIZERS

FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 325 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 PARTS CONSIST OF

Moisture	5.25
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	38.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.80
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Silica	20
Insoluble	2.50
	99.50

The animal matter absorbed 4 2-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is cluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of excellence full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

We refer to the following gentlemen who tested its merits last season:

THE SENTINEL.

THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1867.

HOW THEY POP THE QUESTION.

BY BILL A FRENCH.

The sailor says "I like your rig;
And though I've noticed many,
I really think you are, old gal,
As trim a craft as any.
And if you'll only say the word,
Through every kind of weather—
Just blast my timbers if we don't Go cruising on together!"

The poet with enraptured gaze,
Points out a single star,
"'Tis thine, sweet lady, that you shine
On mortals from afar.
But ah! it is my fondest hope—
Though selfish I must own—
That in some modest, vine-wreathed cot,
You'll shine for me alone."

The dancing master, French, of course,
Thinks earnestly of mating,
And seeks some lovely widow with
A bow excruciating.
"Madame ze heart is in ze hope
You love a leedle beat,
And go ze way of life viz me—
Madame I kees your feet!"

The actor quotes from many plays,
And swears by all the powers,
His hand shall bmild his Anabelle
A cot among the flowers.
Without her smiles, he e'er is like
A ship without a rudder:
Then talks of dark despair, and death,
Until he makes her shudder.

The tradesman, with a leanness eye,
A partner seeks for life!
For sure the best investment is
A tidy, loving wife.
He sees her as a kind of stock,
To sell or say other;
Counts out her requisite amount,
And buys her from her mother.

And Pat, the coachman, winks at Bid,
As she flits from room to room;
The ever merry chamber maid,
With dusting-pan and broom;
He says "Me darlint, when we've laid
Us up a heap of money,
We'll git the praste to tie the knot,
If you'l say yis, my honey."

Says Hans Von Schmidt who keeps saloon,
"I vant a guter frow,
To help me make gler lager pier,
And milk der prindle cow;
To make mine shirts und cook der kront,
Und ebertyings to do;
To feed der herse and slop der peeg,
Und tend my papies too."

And even Sam, the barber man,
At Nan rolls up his eyes,
And talks of matrimonial bliss,
"If you don't gub that lilly hand,"
With most heart-rending sighs,
"To dis 'ere lub-sick nigger,
He puts dis pistol to him head,
And den him pulls de trigger."

"Tis thus mankind rush to their fate,
For with a brilliant light,
That little elfin being, Love,
Has pow'r to blind the sight.
Like children's barks, adown the falls
To waters still, below,
Some glide along without a hurt—
And some to ruin go.

The saints have been holding high carnival in New York tor a fortnight past. Humanity, inanity and insanity have been represented by the most noisy concourse of Bedlamites ever assembled on earth. One of the apostles is Sojourner Truth, and here is her speech:

Sojourner Truth again spoke. She was warmly applauded, and spoke substantially as follows:

"Chil'n, this is a good time. I used to hear folks grambling, yit, yit, yit, yit, at these meetings, but now all is harmony, and everybody looks hapily. I like to see it so. I have got to leave you all in a few years, and I want to vote myself. (Applause.) I have seen it hard work to vote for the men; they have to fight sometimes for a chance, but when women get their right it will be easy. I own a little farm at Battle Creek, and so do some other women. The men call on us to pay taxes. We are called on to furnish highway labor. Out we are all turned with shovels, spades and hoes, and dug up stumps. It would take a good while to dig up a stump, but we all stuck to it till we got it up by the roots. This is the way we want to do now, and it will be a good time for us all when the women all get their rights.

"I will sing a song that I used to sing at our meetings. They didn't use to call our meetings religious, because we could not have churches to hold them in. So I made a song, which should do for the religious meetings, and for the anti-slavery meetings. I want you to get me right (turning to the reporter—the audience bursting into an uproar of laughter); for you men that write me down for the papers can't somehow get me down just as I say it. I cannot read, but I make songs. What is it you call folks that put words together in verses?" Some one prompting her, Sojourner went on, "A pote; yes, that is it, I am a poet. I make the song." She then sung her song, "we are going home," and concluded with an appeal to the men to be generous, and give all colored people, women and all, their "re-re-rights."

She proposes to return to Washington to attend for a season to the colored people there, after which she will canvass the Northern States for "equal rights." She is eighty years old, but declares that she must stay and live until they all get their rights.

CURIOUS CLOCK.

Many years ago there was a clock made by one Droz, a mechanic of Geneva, which was renowned for its ingenious construction. The clock was made so as to be capable of performing the following movements: There was exhibited on it a negro, a shepherd and a dog. When the clock struck the shepherd played six tunes on his flute, and the dog approached and fawned upon him. The clock was exhibited to the King of Spain, who was greatly delighted with it.

"The gentleness of my dog," said Droz, "is his least merit. If your majesty touch one of the apples which you see in the shepherd's basket, you will admire the fidelity of the animal."

The King took an apple and the dog flew at his hand, and barked so loud that the King's dog, which was in the same room during the exhibition, began to bark also; at which the superstitous courtiers, not doubting that it was an affair of witchcraft, hastily left the room, crossing themselves as they went out. Having desired the minister of marine, who was the only one who dared to stay behind, to ask the negro what o'clock it was, the minister asked but received no reply. Droz then observed that the negro had not yet learned Spanish; upon which the minister repeated the question in French, and the black immediately answered him. At this new prodigy the firmness of the minister forsook him, and he retreated precipitately, declaring that it must be the work of a supernatural being. It is probable that, in the performance of these tricks, Droz touched certain springs in the mechanism, although it is not mentioned in any of the accounts of his clock.

Henry Seldon, who lived in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and who, because of his extensive and thorough knowledge was called "the learned Seldon," being asked what, in all his reading, he had found most valuable to know, replied, "The passage by Paul." "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief."

IRREFRAGABLE PROOF.—A Philadelphia gentleman of festive tastes, who takes a "fair shake" at all the obtainable pleasures of the town, last week assisted at a heavy dinner, took much potable, and did not leave for home until ever so many o'clock. On reaching his door steps and fishing up his night-key, he became satisfied that he was essentially convivialized, and not precisely in that condition which a good husband should be to meet a good wife. Cautiously entering the hall he stopped, listened a moment, heard no noise, and congratulated himself that the family were asleep. Quietly he took off overcoat, drew off boots, turned off hall light, slowly ascended stairs to family bed room, hesitated at door, believed he was reasonably right, steadily entered, found gas turned low, wife apparently asleep, thought she was asleep, sat down, listened again, no stir; began to undress; got coat, vest, pants, drawers, stocking, all safely off; was journeying carefully toward couch when wife of his bosom quietly asked:

"Coming to bed, dear?"

"Yes, love,"

"Well, dear, hadn't you better take off your hat?"

A colored witness was examined in a Washington city court, to prove the identity of a white man, the other day:

District Attorney—"Did you see the man?"

"Yes sir, I seed him!"

"Was he a white man?"

"Don't no sir?"

District Attorney—"Do you tell me you saw the man and can't say whether he was white or black?"

"Yes sar, I seed him, but dares so many white fellers callin demselves 'niggers' round here I can't tell one from tod'er!"

Witness dismissed—explanation satisfactory.

A gentleman who has built a small house in a sequestered part of his grounds, for his private study, showed it to a friend, remarking, "Here I sit reading from morning till night and nobody a bit the wiser."

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established; Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish, or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional government who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, House of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

SEC. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

SEC. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes polled thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

SEC. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

SEC. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

SEC. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

SEC. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

SEC. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
